Live The Liturgy Inspiration of the Week

Sometimes we want God's instructions to be clear and precise — like the angel in Joseph's dream. But Joseph's understanding was only as strong as his devotion to God's will. If we give our lives to God as Joseph did, we will know what he asks of us.

From the desk of Fr. C.,

Today, on the 4th Sunday of Advent, the readings get more specific about Christmas. Let's begin with the Gospel's story of Joseph.

Matthew's version of the Christmas story is tied very closely to the evangelist's central focus of presenting to his Jewish-Christian community that Jesus is the fulfillment of the Law. It begins with a very detailed genealogy that traces the family line of Abraham through several generations, through David, and all the way to Joseph, husband of Mary. And in today's passage, we see that same Joseph confronted with the impossible and embarrassing pregnancy of the woman with whom he is betrothed.

The angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream and said, "Joseph, son of David, do not be afraid to take Mary your wife into your home. For it is through the Holy Spirit that this child has been conceived in her. She will bear a son and you are to name him Jesus because he will save his people from their sins."

All this took place to fulfill what the Lord said through the prophet: Behold, the virgin shall conceive and bear a son, and they shall name him Emmanuel, which means "God is with us."

In today's First Reading from Isaiah, we have the very passage quoted by Matthew, almost word for word. In this passage, we are dropped right in the middle of a complicated storyline. Ahaz, king of Judah and descendant of David, had already turned against the Lord by forming an alliance with Assyria, an enemy of Israel, against the counsel of his advisor Isaiah. There would indeed be a future king, Hezekiah, born of a young, unmarried woman. Hezekiah, mentioned in Matthew's genealogy, would ensure the continuation of the royal line of David. The Catholic Church teaches a transcendent fulfillment of this Isaiah passage in the birth of Jesus Christ, conceived by the Holy Spirit and born of the Virgin Mary, who was betrothed to Joseph of the royal line of David.

The role of the Holy Spirit is also affirmed in the Second reading from Saint Paul's Letter to the Romans. The Holy Spirit helps explain the impossibility of a virgin birth and the miracle of God become human. It is Joseph's openness to the Holy Spirit that allows him to put aside his fear and accept Mary as his wife. Inspired by the Spirit, Joseph comes to realize that in his own impossible circumstances, "God is with him." That's Good News. God is with us! Ken Canedo at www.ocp.com

Let Us Pray..

Heavenly Father,

On this fourth Sunday of Advent,

we pause in gratitude for the gift of Your unfailing love.

As we light the final candle, may its warm glow remind us of the light Christ brings into a world longing for hope, peace, and joy.

Fill our hearts with compassion that mirrors Your own, and teach us to love others as You have loved us—selflessly, patiently, and without condition. Prepare us to welcome Jesus not only in celebration of His birth, but in the daily choices we make to live out His love.

*May this week be a time of reflection, kindness, and readiness, so that when Christmas dawns,
our hearts are open and our lives shine with Your presence.*

In Jesus' name we pray,

Amen

Gospel Meditation

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

A priest friend recently told me a remarkable story. One of his cousins reported having a vivid dream in which an angel told him the family needed to exhume their grandmother's body from a cemetery in New York and return it to her birthplace in Romania. She had been dead nearly ten years. As you might expect, the family thought it was, well, crazy. But astonishingly they exhumed her body. It was incorrupt, showing no signs of decomposition. That experience sparked healing, faith, and reconciliation throughout the family.

In this Sunday's Gospel, Joseph also receives a dream. He's confused, afraid. But in the quiet of sleep, God speaks: "Do not be afraid to take Mary your wife into your home" (Matthew 1:20). When he wakes, Joseph acts. He doesn't overanalyze or dismiss the message. He trusts, and acts.

God still speaks — not necessarily through literal dreams but through those deeper intuitions of the heart. St. Ignatius of Loyola taught that God's voice draws us into peace, courage, and love. But we have to listen to it. Advent is a time for stillness. As we prepare for Christ's coming, we're invited to enter that quiet space where God's voice can be heard.

When and how do you become most receptive to God? Is it in silence? In prayer? In nature? At Mass? This week, go there. Be still. Listen. And like Joseph, have the courage to act on what God shows you.
